

Toshiba Reliability Refund Guarantee

The Reliability Refund Guarantee*, formerly known as the Moneyback Warranty Scheme, is a scheme offered by Toshiba. They are so confident about the reliability of the machines they manufacture that in the event of a warranty issue arising the cost of the laptop (less vat) will be refunded by Toshiba to the customer.

If you have purchased a Toshiba Laptop under the NDNA (National Desktop and Notebook Agreement), then you will have a one year warranty extended to three years within the NDNA price without any action on your part.

If you wish to take advantage of the Reliability Refund Guarantee* and you have a qualifying laptop then please refer to the information below to make sure that the offer is applied to the full three year warranty period.

Registration of your laptop for the Reliability Refund Guarantee is required within seven days of purchase.

When you complete the online registration form you need to enter the serial number, invoice date and other information. Please ensure you have this information to hand before following the link below.
